COVID Policies

COVID Policy Compliance

- Every FSILG pilot student will be enrolled in COVID Pass
- Online training module was updated to include FSILG pilot house information
- Policy violations will be centrally reported to Office of Student Conduct
- Each pilot house developed individual member agreements

Q Week

- Pilot houses understand and will follow MIT Q-Week protocols

The pilot houses are committed to following COVID policies to uphold the health and safety of all

Operational Plans

Dining Plans

Each house has a food service/catering plan that provides individually packaged meals. Kitchen use is restricted according to MIT's policies.

Cleaning

Houses are using professional cleaners and have developed guidelines for student cleaning of personal space.

FSILG Households

Houses will operate as 1 or 2 households, following MIT guidelines and state mandates for on-campus pods and student gatherings. If there is a positive case, the entire house will quarantine.
